MILLER STARR REGALIA

Administrative Law & Hearings

We appear regularly before administrative agencies and boards at all levels, ranging from local government to state agencies and resource boards.

Our attorneys author the subdivision map act, building codes, land use, and CEQA chapters of the Miller & Starr, California Real Estate 4th, and provide regular updates through our CEQA Developments blog.

Our attorneys are well-respected by agency staff and decision makers throughout California and our reputation for excellence and depth of experience in the area distinguishes us from others when we appear before administrative bodies and judges. This allows us to achieve the best results for our clients, whether through negotiated outcomes or the administrative process.
