Miller Starr Regalia Shareholder Arielle O. Harris to co-present at Strafford's live 90-minute CLE webinar "CEQA and Environmental Impact Reports: 2020 Cases, Standards, Mitigation Measures, Exemptions and Lead Agencies" from 10:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. (PST) on Wednesday, November 11, 2020.

This CLE webinar will guide environmental counsel on recent California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) case law, policy, and practice developments. Despite the COVID-19 pandemic, 2020 has seen no shortage of CEQA cases in the California trial and appellate courts, with over 20 published appellate decisions to date. This panel will provide legal updates relevant to attorneys, consultants, and public agency staff.

The panelists will provide an overview of key CEQA decisions from 2020, updates on recently adopted CEQA legislation and regulatory updates, as well as an overview of pandemic-related Executive Orders and Rules of Court. Listen as our authoritative panel of environmental attorneys explains the current interpretation and enforcement of CEQA and the status of mitigation measures and exemptions.

The panel will provide practitioners with a strong overview of where CEQA stands today with regard to topics such as measuring the impacts of greenhouse gas emissions and certifying administrative records. The panelists will also provide a forecast of where the practice is heading in key emerging areas, such as the assessment of traffic impacts based on the vehicle miles traveled standard.
